

Child A made a robot with boxes. He knew where he wanted everything but needed a little help to fix it together with the masking tape. "He needs a cardigan". He found some packaging and cut holes so the arms could fit through. He stayed and concentrated for a long time and was really proud of his robot when he had finished. Next step to support the child to develop the use of what he makes into stories

Making a robot

